Hi everyone!

I received many emails informing me that they either wanted to listen to the interview with Peter Goodgame on Friday, July 13, 2007 but missed it, or they tried to listen but were unable. The MP3 audio has now been archived and can be accessed from my website. The audio is a bit low on Peter's microphone, but it got much better as the interview went on. Hey, it's not bad for communicating with someone in Hawaii from Wichita, KS, right?

Here are the news items for this month:

1. Archive of July 13, 2007 Peter Goodgame Interview on "The Big Finale"

For those who missed my interview of Peter Goodgame on July 13, 2007 about the possible identity of the future Antichrist, you can download the archived audio at the link below:

I also encourage you to check out Peter's latest research on the Giza Discovery at his website, www.redmoonrising.com.

2. Archive of June 22, 2007 Interview on The Seven Seals with Bruce Collins on "The Big Finale"

For those who missed the June 22, 2007 interview with Bruce Collins on The Big Finale, it is now available at the linke below:

<http://www.earthquakeresurrection.com/media/RadioInterviews/TBF/tbf062207.mp3>

I believe you will enjoy this interview, as the entire hour was taken to slowly walk through each of the first six seals, the meaning of the seven-sealed book, and the importance of understanding the historical setting of Revelation chapters 4 and 5 for the correct historical interpretation of the opening of the seals. Discussion of an important passage in Zechariah chapter 6 which sheds light on the identity of the riders of the four horses of the first four seals was also a highlight.

Many of you mentioned that you wanted to listen to this archive, so I hope you will take advantage of the archive.

3. New Earthquake Resurrection Blogger Community

Have you ever wished you could discuss the information in Earthquake Resurrection with others who have read the books or are interested in the subject? A new community has been set up on Blogger.com to do just that. You can visit the new site here:

<http://earthquakeresurrection.blogspot.com> (make sure to add this to your Favorites!)

Unfortunately, this blog has not seen much action. The format doesn't seem to be conducive to people conversing with others, like in a message board format. I still have plans to add more content to the different categories on the blog, as well as continue posting new blogs with news and views about Bible prophecy.

4. Scripture Forums: A New Message Board

Scripture Forums is a new message board that I have been made aware of where Christians come together to fellowship and discuss the Word of God in a Berean spirit. The message board allows discussion of any alternative timeline to the rapture and resurrection, including the sixth seal earthquake resurrection model. According to a post by the Administrator of the message board:

"This board recognizes that there are multiple theological positions of the rapture. The board also recognizes that the actual position held is not a salvation issue. As such, Scripture Forums is open to the discussion of different theological positions of the rapture; as long as the discussion is based on scripture."

I encourage all of you enjoy fellowship with other believers in a message board forum to join in the discussion at Scripture Forum. I look forward to seeing some of you there. The forum is located at <http://scriptureforums.org/index.php>.

Another very good message board is The Berean Online Fellowship on Chuck Missler's Koinonia House website, although this board requires a subscription. The forum is located at http://members.khouse.org/message_boards/.

5. Reader Comments

I received a very nice testimonial this month from a reader named Michael:

While it took some time to clear away the stuff of everyday life to devote the proper attention to your books, I was finally able to dive in. I can only say that I have been blown away by your analysis, your careful observation of scripture, and your absolutely Spirit-inspired ability to describe God's plan for the ages.

I have not read anything so well-researched and well-written in a long time. I'm about half way through the first book, and have been diving into the Word trying to anticipate the meaning of various scriptures such as the earthquake in Ezekiel 38 during the invasion of the army from the north.

For years I've studied prophecy, the pre-incarnate appearances of Christ in the Old Testament, the timeline given to Daniel (which could have been followed by generations of the Magi, culminating in their visit to Bethlehem), and the patterns and images God scattered throughout His Word. Your analysis is incredibly exciting, and I thank you for the hard work and effort to put this material together.

I plan to share your book with others, and pray that God will open many more eyes through your words, to the coming events on this earth's last days. Once I've finished the first book and can complete the second, I will try to follow up. For now, just know that you've made a student of the Word very happy.

I'm very grateful for these comments.

6. December 2007 Pre-trib Prophecy Conference in Dallas, TX

It's not too early to make plans to attend the 2007 Pre-trib Study Group prophecy conference in Dallas, TX December 10-12. This was a great place for me to meet people like Douglas Berner, Peter Goodgame, Pastor John Abent, David Hitt, and Mike Bennett. It is a great learning experience and a wonderful time of fellowship with other likeminded members of the body of Christ. The web site to visit for information is <http://www.pre-trib.org/index.php>. I'd love to be able to meet and fellowship with more of you face to face.

Until next time, may the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with you.

David Lowe
